

MANY CHRISTMAS ENTERTAINMENTS FILL SOCIETY'S WEEK

money are also in progress, while the Junior League's scheme of "movies" will, it is expected, interest the entire American continent and make not only the Junior League but New York famous. Every mall that comes brings housewarming appeals for the "treasure of your company" at this or that entertainment, guaranteed by a list of most desirable patroresses who, if they cannot always lead their presence, at all events lead their names and incidentally are made responsible for a certain number of tickets or the expenditure of a certain amount of money. These entertainments are not given primarily to bring out the debonair, but they do bring together society's smartest people. Consequently, financially, they are all they should be.

The Colony Club is to be in order for the after the holiday dances and in the meantime entertainments are being given at the present clubhouse. The best place to select for the debonair dance is always a question, and there is keen rivalry between the many different places which fashion has decided shall be popular. There is considered to be more exclusiveness about a dance at the Colony Club than anywhere excepting a private house, but in these days, when all the details of entertaining are so perfectly carried out at all the public dances, exclusiveness does not have to enter into consideration and it is only the most conservative and those few hostesses who have private ballrooms to whom conservatism and exclusiveness matter in the least.

Probably there are no harder worked persons in existence this season than the women of society who are striving to help the unfortunate on both sides of the Atlantic Ocean by way of entertainments of one sort or another to catch the stray dollars. It will be a fortunate individual who can get out of it with the payment of a dollar or so, as single dollars do not avail much when it comes to the cost of admission to diversions of every description that are being offered from now on.

This week will present the pageant based on epochs in American history at the Waldorf-Astoria and the rather colossal undertaking in behalf of St. Mark's Hospital, which will require almost the entire space in the Grand Central Palace. There will be in addition to these balls, tableaux vivants, bazaars, and other dancants for the benefit of local and foreign charities, and it is no doubt a sign of good times that so many entertainments are being given that are sure to draw heavily upon the bank accounts of those who happen to be in the always enlarging circle of what is known as society.

Efforts are being made to keep some of the money at home, and it should not be forgotten that there are many cases of want and suffering right here in the midst of us, and some institutions are sadly in need of funds to carry on the winter work. All these diversions mean more occupation for debutantes, who are greatly in demand for all that is announced for this week, and for weeks to come in the line of entertainments for benevolent purposes. It will be a great test of their staying qualities, as the managers of these semi-public functions seem to think they are not complete without the cooperation of the boys, as they are so often called.

No large private dances have been announced for this week, but there will be numerous parties for debutantes. Mrs. Andrew C. Zabriskie gives a luncheon for some of them in the ladies' annex of the Metropolitan Club on Tuesday and Mrs. Ben Ali Haggan will give one for her nieces Miss Frederica Bull at Sherry's on Wednesday. Mrs. Ernest Flagg has a luncheon on Thursday for Miss Isabel Stettinius and on the same day Mrs. J. Rich Steers is giving one for her two debutante nieces, the Misses Adele and Alice Sedgwick. Mrs. Charles H. Simons will introduce her daughter, Miss Ethel Simons, on Friday afternoon, and among the debutantes to be introduced on Saturday are Miss Mary Hartshorne and Miss Margaret Thompson. Mrs. Warren E. Dennis is giving a dinner and theatre party on Saturday night for her daughter, Miss Mildred Dennis, though she is not a debutante.
